THE ODYSSEY, BOOK VIII

Students like Ade Ayoola, SB'18, set the bar. She made her mark as a student-athlete in the College (biochem, shot put, high jump, Dean's List, and All-American). The rigorous expectations of both athletics and the Core taught her dedication, resilience, teamwork, and discipline. These lessons, she says, were "fundamental in shaping who I am today."

Her latest event: medical school. She's one of only 49 inaugural Knight-Hennessy Scholars at Stanford, where she's training as a caregiver and future global leader.

She didn't do this alone. Gifts from alumni like you help scholar-athletes like Ade achieve their best. Your annual support ensures that UChicago athletes can meet—and exceed—their goals.

Please make your gift to Friends of Maroon Athletics today—and ensure support for future Maroons.
