FORENSIC SCIENCE

"I chose the University of New Haven because it was the school that made me feel the most welcomed. As a first-generation college student, I didn't know much about the college process, and the faculty and staff were more than ready to help. It was comforting to know how much they cared and how invested in me they were. It was obvious the faculty genuinely cared about their students and how they were doing, which I knew I would need to study in the forensic science program. I am truly grateful for all the personal and financial support I have received thus far."
