

Dear Gbadebo,

Next Friday's deadline is a key one, as all gifts received by the end of Columbia's 2022-2023 fiscal year create a strong foundation of resources that are put into immediate use for the year ahead, with wide-reaching impact. The University can provide critical resources to students, researchers, and faculty because of the support of donors like you!

As you've heard from several Columbians recently, lending your support during this final week of June through a fiscal year-end gift is important. Your gifts can expand student access through bolstering financial aid and scholarships; attract and retain renowned faculty who are leaders in their fields; equip researchers with essential funding to pursue ideas and innovation in labs, classrooms, and sites around the world; ensure the arts, athletics, and entrepreneurship continue to thrive across Columbia's campuses; and so much more.

Will you renew your commitment with a gift by June 30?

Thank you in advance for your partnership in these final days of the fiscal year!

Sincerely,

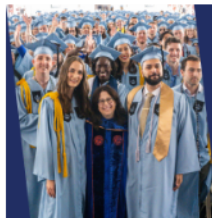

Donna H. MacPhee '89CC, P: '17CC
President, Columbia Alumni Association

P.S. Don't miss the deadline! Click here to give by Friday, June 30, at 11:59 p.m. EDT.

HOW YOUR GIFT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

A snapshot of how donors have an impact, directly from your Columbia community

"Having just experienced my first Commencement and Reunion Weekend, I am stunned by the amazing GS community. I am delighted to be a part of a team devoted to creating an environment in which our students flourish."—Heather Sandler, GS Leadership Gift Officer

"Through the Success Through Well-Being initiative, Columbia Athletics has paved a path that allows us to expect success rather than chase it, both in athletic competition and professionally." —Phil Healy '23CC and Hayden Schott '23CC

"When you choose to support Columbia Libraries, you help ignite innovation and fuel discovery in every discipline for students, faculty, and researchers." —Ann D. Thornton, Vice Provost and University Librarian
