Dear Friends,

During this special season, we reflect on the Quaker values that define the Sidwell Friends community: simplicity, peace, integrity, community, equality, and stewardship. Your unwavering support illuminates these principles, guiding us through the year's challenges and triumphs.

In the spirit of these values, we extend our heartfelt gratitude for your support of The Sidwell Friends Fund. Your contributions have helped nurture the hearts and minds of our students, fostering an environment of empathy and understanding.

Together, we help light the way forward for the next generation of ethical leaders and shape a world where compassion and wisdom guide our way. Thank you for your partnership.

Wishing you peace, love, and joy this holiday season.

In friendship and with gratitude,
