

Elevating Colorado State University

[Date]

Dear [NAME:]

In times of change and transition at Colorado State University, our focus on students never changes. We want every student who enrolls at CSU to graduate and go on to have an impact on our world.

As we write this, a whole new class of incoming students is figuring out which residence hall they're going to live in this fall and how to register for classes. They're excited and a little bit nervous. Our returning students, meanwhile, are working on summer internships and field experiences. Some are taking on extra shifts at summer jobs so they can pay their rent in the fall. Others are squeezing in extra classes and making graduation plans.

We know these students well because, in addition to our administrative roles, we both still teach and counsel students at CSU. We recognize that they come from all different backgrounds and experiences. They each have their own majors, goals, worries, and priorities. But one thing is true for all of them: They each deserve the best resources, support, and education we can offer so they can get the most from their CSU investment.

We invite you to join us in helping our students achieve their very best. Your gift to a targeted fund of your choosing can make a significant difference in a student's life. Consider some of the ways you can have an impact:

- A scholarship gift to any college or academic department will help students reach their academic goals.
- Our Fostering Success Program provides a network of support for students who may have limited family support because they are experiencing homelessness or come to CSU from the foster care system.
- We have a number of funds to assist students who are experiencing financial crisis or hardship – or who need just a little help to get to graduation.
- A gift to the Parents Fund benefits programs that directly serve students, including mental health services, career programs, and student activities.
- The University Honors Program supports students in all majors to deepen their skills in critical thinking, creative problem solving, written and oral communication, and interdisciplinary learning.
- Student-athletes work hard on the playing field and in the classroom, and gifts to our athletic scholarship fund can have a life-changing impact.

The options and ways to lend support are as diverse and individual as our students. But they all have one thing in common: Your gift will have a real and immediate impact on the students who are CSU's greatest legacy.

“ Students deserve the best resources, support, and education we can offer so they can get the most from their CSU investment.”
