, today is Cornell's Giving Day!

Our classmates have supported so many different causes at Cornell and today is the perfect chance to see how those gifts of all sizes come together and enhance all the academic and extracurricular programs that made our time on the hill so special. Our experiences on campus shaped our futures and the Class of 2014 can provide the next generation that same opportunity.

Today when we give back, we can make an even bigger impact. Are you in?

Yes I'm in!

Today is also an opportunity to enhance your impact beyond your individual giving by coming together with our class and Cornellians around the world. Below are some ways to get involved and help inspire others to give back as well.

- Unlock gift challenges and matches to help secure bonus funds
- Text 10 classmates to move our class up the leaderboards
- Raise the Bar for an area you care about
- Spread the word about #CornellGivingDay on social media
