

Thank You!

The financial support I have received allows me to focus on my studies instead of my finances. It gives me the freedom to seek academic and career opportunities that are valuable to my future. Most importantly, it allows me the time to give back to my community; to lead my peers with diligence and dedication.

Thank you, John for investing in the University of Houston-Downtown!

Students, like Riley Hardwick, choose UHD for its affordable tuition, small class sizes, and diversity. They persist and succeed with the support of our Gator Community.

More than 1,000 alumni, faculty, staff, students, and friends are dedicated and determined to see our students succeed. Their charitable gifts create a network of support throughout the University — from innovative programs and degrees to scholarships and grants.

YOU are the reason that we can shape the future of tomorrow's leaders today.
