

Dear John,

I'm a Panther majoring in computer science and from the small town of Waycross, Georgia. With my degree from Georgia State, I plan to start a cybersecurity firm that prioritizes small businesses.

I am this, and I am more.

Because of individuals like you, alumni who have generously given, there's more to my story.

Receiving donor support gave me the freedom to discover and pursue my interests. Now, in my campus involvement and my service to the university as a member of the 1913 Society, I'm a catalyst for positive change in my community.

When you give to Georgia State, you're not just making a donation. You're creating opportunity, giving Panthers the chance to explore the full breadth of their passions. I think that's the most beautiful and noble gift a person can give.

I hope you'll consider renewing your support today and help students add more lines and new chapters to their Georgia State story. What a gift.

Sincerely,
Quintarius Adamson, Class of 2024
