Dear Sam and Sandra,

Thank you for showing the world what it means to be a Seawolf by making your first gift on Stony Brook's Giving Day 2023. Your inspirational generosity is going to work right away, holding doors open to more opportunities across campus and beyond.

With your gift, you joined a special community of alumni and friends who are making a difference. That's what we do as Seawolves, isn't it? We come together to support and encourage each other, working to create the future we all believe in.

You also helped make history at Stony Brook this year. Your giving, together with every other Seawolf who joined you, generated 3,222 gifts, raising more than $760,000.

Thank you. On behalf of everyone who's about to walk through the door you opened for them, you have our deepest gratitude.

Sincerely,

Katrina Schindlar '21 and Beatriz Vera '21

Dear Brooke,

In true Seawolf spirit, you showed the world what it means to be a part of Stony Brook University through your participation in Giving Day 2023.

As one of Stony Brook's most loyal and generous supporters, you know the incredible impact your gift can make today and in building the future we all know is possible. Your inspirational generosity is going to work right away, holding doors open to more opportunities across campus.

You also helped make history at Stony Brook this year. Your giving, together with every other Seawolf who joined you, generated 3,222 gifts, raising over $760,000 - more than double our total last year!

Thank you. On behalf of everyone who's about to walk through the door you opened for them, you have our deepest gratitude.

Sincerely,

Katrina Schindlar '21 and Beatriz Vera '21

Dear Mr. Seawolf,

You invest and give so much of yourself to the important work we do here at Stony Brook, which makes your generous gift on Giving Day so much more remarkable.

We hear, time and again, how special Stony Brook is – a place where everyone pulls together to lift each other up, support each other, and encourage each other.

As an employee of Stony Brook, you embody that reputation, not just in what you do every day, but also in your generous giving. Your giving, together with every other Seawolf who joined you on Giving Day, generated 3,222 gifts, raising more than $760,000.

Thank you. On behalf of everyone who's about to walk through the door you opened for them, you have our deepest gratitude.

Sincerely,

Dear John and Gina,

In true Seawolf spirit, you helped make history this year with your recent gift to Stony Brook's Giving Day 2023. Your giving, together with the many other students, alumni and friends who joined you, generated 3,222 gifts, raising more than $760,000.

Your inspirational generosity is going to work right away, holding doors open to more opportunities across campus. Because of you, a scholarship will be available, a new cure may be discovered through research, or a spark of inspiration and innovation will ignite because of an incredible teacher.

Thank you for being part of a special community of Seawolves who are making a difference – coming together to create the future we all believe in. On behalf of everyone who's about to walk through the door you opened for them, you have our deepest gratitude.

Sincerely,
