

Dear alumni and friends of NYU,

This graduation season, many alumni are looking back on their own college experience. For me, moving to NYC and attending NYU enabled me to grow as a person and understand the world in a unique way. It provided me with an enriching experience, and helped me develop skills to succeed professionally. I made friends that will last a lifetime here, and learned from faculty and staff who encouraged me to think critically.

I would not have been able to do so without the support of generous donors like you. That is why I give back, so other students can have the same opportunity as me—for scholarship support, to learn from world-class professors, and to experience all the unique opportunities that NYU has to offer.

Please join me and others from the NYU community in making a gift to the NYU fund that means the most to you today!

Dear College of Arts and Science alumni,

This graduation season, many alumni are looking back on their own college experience. For me, moving to NYC and attending CAS provided me with an enriching experience and helped me develop skills to succeed professionally. I made friends that will last a lifetime and I learned from renowned faculty who encouraged me to think critically.

I would not have been able to do so without the support of generous alumni donors. That's why now, along with many other recent graduates, I give back so CAS students can have more opportunities for scholarship support, to learn from world-class professors, and to experience all the unique opportunities that NYU has to offer.

As we celebrate the Class of 2023, please consider helping more students attain this milestone by making a gift to the CAS fund that means the most to you.

Your gift, regardless of size, makes an impact in the lives of CAS students. I hope you'll join me in making a gift today!
