

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY ART MUSEUM

November 2024

Dear <<First Name>>,

Imagine a place in which every stroke of paint, contour of sculpture, and illuminated manuscript tells the story of creativity across time and culture. A place that not only showcases stunning works of art but also fosters community and learning. The Princeton University Art Museum is all of that and more: it is home to world renowned art collections; a place where minds meet, inspiration abounds, and horizons expand—and it's free for all.

We are building a new Museum for Princeton, our neighboring communities, and visitors from around the world! Every day marks progress at the building site, from the finishes in the galleries and learning spaces to the plantings that now frame the building's exteriors.

We invite you to join our family of supporters at this critical moment. As we prepare to open the new Museum in 2025, your gift will truly make a difference. Your support has the power to build bridges between generations and across communities.

By making a gift before December 31, 2024, you will see your name publicly recognized in a handmade commemorative volume that will celebrate all of the donors who have given in support of the new Museum. This beautiful book will be on view in the Museum's entrance hall for all visitors to enjoy.

Your gift now will make you part of a legacy that will enlighten countless minds and hearts—and will assure your invitation to participate in the new Museum's opening festivities.
