

AN IMPACT LIKE NO OTHER.

STORIES OF IMPACT

“My late grandfather, instilled in me the great reverence of gaining as much knowledge as possible in order to reach your fullest potential – but more importantly, to positively impact those around you. I am a proud recipient of the Bard scholarship, which has helped me continue to work towards providing knowledgeable, compassionate care in honor of my grandfather. After graduating, I hope to create a safe space for each patient I encounter.”

Jenna Lawrence, Master of Physician Assistant Studies, Class of 2025

“Education strengthens our skills, just as a healthy smile strengthens confidence. As a Bard Scholarship recipient, I am empowered to bring knowledge and care to each patient. With every new skill I learn, I’m one step closer to my goal of making a difference, one smile at a time.”

Evi Tran, Bachelors of Dental Hygiene, Class of 2025

Dear Ms. De La Garza-Siquian,

Another year of great things has happened at Augusta University! The College of Allied Health Sciences continues to create opportunities for our students, faculty and programs.

Whatever connects you to Allied Health, you likely know firsthand the impact that a quality education can have on a person’s life. Allied Health not only provides a quality education, but our professional health care programs provide students with a career for life.

Much of our success is directly related to you, the graduates, the pioneers and the donors, who make our programs what they are today. We are fortunate to be a part of an academic research university with faculty whose innovative ideas inspire students and help make the world better.

You have the opportunity to help ensure student success for a brighter future. Gifts of all sizes can equip students and faculty with the resources to be leaders in their fields. Your support can help:

- Promote the success of our seven graduate and seven undergraduate programs.
- Expand access for students to our degrees in Clinical Laboratory Science and Radiation Therapy near Atlanta.
- Continue working with community partners to provide health professions faculty who teach and practice.

Your investment makes a difference. I hope you continue to foster the exciting work taking place here by making a gift today. Together, we are preparing leaders with the potential to transform lives in Augusta and around the world.

Sincerely,

Lester Pretlow, PhD
Dean, College of Allied Health Sciences
