Subject: 2024: Year of the Seahawk!

Happy National Bird Day to you!

Ginny,

Did you know that today, January 5, is National Bird Day?

We hope it's not hawkward, but we want to take this opportunity to thank you for being a donor and a vital member of our Seahawk community.

From groundbreaking research to scoring points on the court, to academic excellence and the Seahawk student experience, your generosity has been a feather in our cap. We can't help but tweet about the joy it has brought to our nest. Your ongoing support is im-peck-able and truly like no other.

Your gifts have helped UNCW, our community, region and state soar to new heights.

We are egg-cited to share this exclusive printable poster of our favorite bird, Sammy C. Hawk, to get you in the spirit of your Seahawk Era.

Wings Up,
Office of Annual Giving

P.S. We hope you find our bird puns emu-sing!

P.P.S. If you would like to start the year by renewing your support, make your gift here.
