FOREVER BRIGHTER
KENT STATE UNIVERSITY
Building on the legacy of Gold and Blue
At Kent State, each new generation of Golden Flashes builds on the accomplishments of those who came before them. We all share the memories and traditions of this university, but what truly makes us gold and blue is our capacity to impact others, especially those who come after us.
Our legacy is made brighter by the success of each generation of Golden Flashes.
We are #FlashesForever.

FOREVER BRIGHTER
KENT STATE UNIVERSITY
With more than 275,000 living alumni, we are affecting positive change on a national and international level. But what if we all made a difference right where we started – at Kent State University?
Give today to help support the generations to come, and see how together we can make every Golden Flash shine brighter than ever.
Let's Go Forward!

Stephanie –
At Kent State, each new generation of Golden Flashes builds on the accomplishments of those who came before them. We all share the memories and traditions of this university, but what truly makes us gold and blue is our capacity to impact others.
With more than 275,000 living alumni, we are affecting positive change on a national and international level. But what if we all made a difference right where we started – at Kent State University? What if we paved the way to help others earn their degrees?
Our legacy is made brighter by the success of each generation of Golden Flashes. Give today to see how together, we can shine brighter than ever.
We are #FlashesForever.
