Buckeyes still remember you, [NAME]

You may not hear it every day, but the impact of your [YEAR] gift is still being felt. It is helping a student stay enrolled, supporting bold research and bringing live music to a child for the first time. Gifts like yours ripple outward—changing lives long after they're given.

Many devoted Buckeyes step back from giving for perfectly understandable reasons. Sometimes we lose sight of our "why." Life is busy, and even strong intentions can fall by the wayside.

So, if you've ever found yourself thinking, "It isn't the right time," or "My gift won't matter," or "I don't know what to support," we completely understand.

If any of these ring true, here are some things to consider:

"It isn't the right time."

Even modest support adds up quickly. Last year, gifts under $250—often less than dinner and a movie—combined to help thousands of students receive help paying for their tuition. Donors like you helped support emergency-aid funds for students in crisis. We promise that whether you choose $10, $25, or $50, your timing is always perfect for the people your gift will help.

"My gift won't matter."

At Ohio State, impact is measured in lives, not in commas or zeros. Gifts from donors like you recently helped the College of Engineering and the Wexner Medical Center use 3D printing to create heart valves to assist surgeons. We promise that gifts of every size fuel breakthroughs like this every day.

❑ I want to learn more about making an impact on Buckeyes for years to come. Please contact me to discuss my giving options at Ohio State.

“I don’t know what to support.”

Passion has many doors at Ohio State. Your gift can:

- Heal with life-saving cancer trials.
- Inspire through need-based scholarships for first-generation students.
- Protect by advancing sustainable farming practices that feed millions.

Tell us what moves you, and we will match your gift to a mission that reflects your values. We promise there is a Buckeye cause with your name on it.

When Buckeyes rally together—even after a pause—remarkable things happen.

Every project at Ohio State is ready for its next leap, powered by a donor who once said, “Yes, I’ll help.” This time, that donor can be you.

You can make an impact again.

Visit give.osu.edu/remember or scan the QR code. The gift form lets you search and choose from featured funds in 30 seconds.

Whether you choose to give $10 or $1,000, monthly or one-time, to medicine or the marching band—your gift matters. Your renewed support turns hope into action.

Buckeyes never stop at one victory—we roll up our sleeves and tackle the next challenge together. We build. We heal. We discover. We lift each other up.

That’s the promise of this community, and it begins anew the moment you decide to give.

Go Bucks!

P.S. A year from now, a student, a patient – or maybe an animal – will still feel the impact of the gift you make today.
