YOUR GIFT TODAY HELPS SHAPE THE PATH FOR STUDENTS LIKE SONIA:

Transfer student Sonia Langhorne ‘25 is majoring in psychology while balancing classes with motherhood and a full-time job.

She’s still found time to get that Randolph experience, serving as a Presidential Ambassador as well as a member of the step team and the honor societies Omicron Delta Kappa and Psi Chi.

“I was at a crossroads in my life and I knew I needed to do something for me, and show my son a different life. I feel so honored to come to Randolph, to a place where I get to be me.”
