This Giving Tuesday, we're celebrating the powerful bonds - the shared laughs, the study groups, the lifelong friendships - that truly define the Northern experience. You know the magic that happens on the Tundra. The friendships you made here are invaluable; from classmates to professors, to staff, advisors, alumni and everyone else you came into contact with during your time on campus. Today we hope you will honor the bonds that started at ONU.

At ONU, students don't just find their calling; they find their people. We're celebrating the lifelong bonds that started right here on the Tundra. Share your ONU Friendship story and make a gift to celebrate the connections that you made. Your gift ensures future Polar Bears find their calling and their people, just like you did.
