Kimberly, the finish line is in sight!

As Nicholas prepares to cross the stage and join the proud ranks of Lewis & Clark alumni, we invite you to mark this moment in a special way.

This year is particularly historic: your senior is part of the very first graduating class of River Otters! We're launching a special parent giving campaign to celebrate this new legacy.

Making a gift in honor of your senior is a heartfelt way to say, we're so proud of you, and we're grateful to this place that helped you get here. Your support strengthens the programs, connections, and experiences that made their time at Lewis & Clark so meaningful.

Make a Splash for Your Grad

When you make a gift of $70 or more to L&C in honor of your graduate, we will include a pair of exclusive, limited-edition River Otter socks in their Cap & Gown pickup packet, so they can be dressed head to toe on this special day.

Give Today To Honor Your Senior

It's a fun way for them to carry a piece of L&C with them wherever their journey leads.

Mario,

From late-night study sessions to making lifelong friends, your student's time at Lewis & Clark has been defined by growth and community. As Mia prepares for commencement (and their next chapter) you have the opportunity to celebrate all that they have accomplished—and pay it forward.

Making a gift in honor of your senior supports the future of the L&C experience, ensuring the next generation of River Otters has the same incredible opportunities your student enjoyed.

Don't forget the socks!

Gifts of $70 or more qualify for our exclusive mascot socks. These aren't sold in the bookstore; they are a special way to say congratulations and celebrate the first graduating class of River Otters. We'll make sure they are waiting for your student right inside their Cap & Gown packet for an extra surprise at pickup!

Honor your graduate here!
